Experts Say Athletics Should

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—Christy Mathewson, master manipulator of the ball, left the New York Giants to victory at Shibe park today, when he shut out the Philadelphia Athletics in a 10-inning battle by a 2 to 0 score in the second game of the world's series. After a decade of league and world's championship play, the veteran rose to the highest pinnacle of his diamond career by an exhibition of all-around play that wrung yells of applause from the 20,000 Athletic supporters.

Box score experts will point to their figures to prove that if other Glanville were instrumental in winning the second contest of the series, but the Philadelphia fans who filed early out of the Athletic park spoke only of Mathewson.

For a trifle over two hours, and twenty minutes the man whose requiem was subg. by thousands of fans after the final game against the Boston Red Sox in the world's series of 1912, turned back the hard-bitting Athletics without a semblance of a break. Then when he saw that his teammates could not wrest victory from Plank, he took his hat and drove in the run that won the game. The other Giants added two more to clinch the contest but they were not needed. Mathewson was the master to the end. Oldring, Collins or Baker being unable to drive the ball outside the diamond in the tenth and final inning.

As a result of Mathewson's prowess the Giants went back to New York to-night on even terms with the Athletics and the struggle will be repeated as the Polo grounds tomorrow with the two teams comparatively in the same position they were before they crossed bats for the 1913 title.

Mackmen Lose Chance.

For nine innings the rival clubs battled without advantage, brilliant fielding and thrilling strategy shutting off runs that appeared assured. In the tenth with darkness settling the hero of the game terminated the contest. The Athletics had a chance to win in the ninth and many thought poor generalship on the bench and coaching lines threw away the one opportunity that the fortunes of baseball cast their way.

The Giants secured seven hits off Plank to the Athletics' eight from Mathewson who struck out five batters to Plank's six. New York had eight men left on bases to Philadelphia's 10. Fletcher, McLean and Mathewson secured two hits each, a total of six out of the seven recorded by the Giants. Baker was the only Athletic player to get two hits off Mathewson.

George Wiffed Shining Star.
Had it not been for Mathewson's remarkable exhibition in the box and great George Wiffed would have been hailed as the star of the game. Substituting for Snodgrass first as a runner and then at first base in the third inning, he equaled anything Merkle showed this season. The climax came

In the ninth when he out two Athletics on at the plate and took Mathewson's throw at first for the third out. According to the figures of the national commission the attendance was approximately 5,000 less than the first game here in 1911 but the receipts were 5,000 greater, due to the "increase" in the prices for seats this season.

Probably 4,000 more saw the game than points of vantage outside the park. The two rows of brick houses that overlook the park on two sides were literally awash with spectators. The thrifty householders charged 50 cents to a dollar for the privilege.

After the conference between managers and McGraw, and Captain Dan Murphy, who were over the Athletics took the field and Herzog led off for New York. He sent a high fly to Collins and was out amid the cheers of the crowd. Captain Doyle sent a fly to Strunk in center field and Fletcher ended the inning by fanning a victim to strikes.

Doyle Errs Early.

The home looters cheered Eddie Murphy as he faced the old reliable Mathewson. His first pitch, unusual for him in a world's series game was a ball but the second was a strike and Murphy sent a slow grounder to Doyle. New York captain in his anxiety to make a quick throw to head off the fleet runner let the ball go even his legs and Murphy was safe. Reuben Oldring slashed a single to left field sending Murphy to second. Collins, as expected sacrificed to Doyle, advancing both teammates. Hit or out? Baker fouled the Athletics' pitcher as the home run hero stepped to the plate. He came up some dirt and rubbed it on a hand. Mathewson unperturbed, pitched a wide outburst but the slugger let it go by for a ball. The crowd shouted but Baker fouled the next offering. On the next pitch the hard-hitting third baseman was out on a strike. You didn't do it that me shouted some one from the crowd and behind the bench, McInnis fled. Burns leaving Murphy and Oldring stranded on the bases.

Burns first up for New York in the second inning on Plank's grounder. He fanned but hit up a long fly that hit into Murphy's hands and Murray quickly disposed of by Plank. He struck him out. The Athletics did not trouble Mathewson in the second inning. Strunk hit a grounder to Doyle, who fielded a ball cleanly and tossed the fast runner out by inches. Burns, who was of Barry's high fly and Lapp sent out by the accurate throw.

Snodgrass Shows Hurt.

The best that Larry McLean did in the third inning for New York was a pop fly to Barry. Snodgrass hit a single and left field and the second best idea of the day. New York's Charles House, for a while, was a little bit of a trouble. With Mathewson at bat, Plank had little fear of the Athletics trying to steal even though the sixth inning was pretty close.

Both pitchers were going in magnificent style. Doyle sent a weak grounder to Plank and was tossed out. Fletcher sent up a high foul that McInnis got under. Murphy took care of Burns long fly.

Crowd Hoots Umpire.

In the Athletics' half Umpire Connolly was hooted when he called Collins' grounder a foul. The ball was bounding along the third base foul line when Herzog got it and dropped it. It was the second strike on Collins and he was called out on strikes as Mathewson shot the next ball across the plate. Baker drove a wicked grounder that looked as if it would go to center field but Fletcher managed to get up to it as the ball shot over second and made a fine throw to first while on the run. This was one of the best fielding plays of the game and brought forth much cheering. McInnis struck out.

In the seventh inning, Shaffer for New York tried to strangle Murray with a fly that Barry took without any trouble. McLean drove a long fly to Oldring.

One of the best catches of the day in the second half of the seventh inning was made by Burns, who ran in and got Strunk's short fly off his shoe tops. Barry hit to Herzog, who made a pretty throw to first ahead of the runner. Lapp shot a single past Wiltse but was left on first when Plank sent up a pop fly to Fletcher.

Murphy Turns "Flopp."

Wiltse opened New York's half of the eighth by going out, Collins to McInnis. Mathewson, who seemed to have no trouble in hitting Plank, smashed a hard drive to right field. Murphy barely got up to the ball, picked it off his shoe tops and turned a somersault. He held the ball, however, and Umpire Klem, who was in right field, signaled that Murphy had made the out. Herzog hit a fly to center field for which Strunk had to spring. Mathewson's first real trouble came in the eighth inning with the top of the Athletics' batting order up. Murphy grounded out to Wiltse, who was playing a fine game around first base. Oldring was the second out. Fletcher to Wiltse, Collins brought the crowd to its feet by shooting a single into left field. Again the cry came for Baker to hit a home run and he responded with a sharp single to left field, Collins being held on second. McInnis ended the inning by forcing Collins at third. Herzog making the out unassisted.

The ninth inning started with Doyle flying out to Strunk. Fletcher brought cheers for the Giants by hitting to center field for the base. Burns received a base on balls and Fletcher moved to second. There was some excitement on the Giants' bench at the prospect of scoring, but Shaffer fled to Oldring and Murray sent up a fly to Murphy.

Great Ninth inning.

Then came the Athletics' ninth and the crowd rose to its feet as Strunk singled to center. Barry in attempting to sacrifice him hit a slow grounder toward second and Doyle, running in, picked up the ball and tossed it to first as Barry flashed over the bag. The throw was bad and Barry raced to second and Strunk went on to third. There was a chance for Strunk to score but he was held at third. It looked like a sure victory for the Athletics. All the New York infield surrounded Mathewson and after a short conference the big pitcher again went into the box. Lapp hit weakly to Wiltse and the latter shot the ball to McLean as Strunk rushed to the plate. McLean easily put the ball on the runner and he was out. It was expected that Manager Mack would send in a pinch hitter for Plank but the manager decided to let the pitcher bat. Plank hit Wiltse who shot the ball to McLean. Wiltse who shot the ball to McLean, catching Barry coming home. Barry darted back toward third and McLean threw the ball to Herzog, who then returned it to Mathewson down the line. Barry was touched out. Lapp reached third and Plank second. Murphy ended the inning by sending an easy grounder to Mathewson who threw him out. Mathewson received generous applause as he walked to the bench.

Matty Wins in Tenth.

The memorable tenth inning saw victory go to the Giants. McLean opened it with a single to right center. Grant was ordered to run for McLean and went down to second on Wiltse's sacrifice hit. Plank putting the ball on Wiltse as he ran toward first base. Mathewson then won his game by sending a slashing single to center field on which Grant came home. Herzog shot a grounder at Collins and the latter threw the ball to Barry in force. Mathewson, Barry appeared to lose sight of the ball and it went over his head as Mathewson reached second and kept on to third as the ball rolled into center field. Herzog reaching third. Plank hit Doyle with a pitched ball and the bases were full. Fletcher caught one of Plank's fast inshoots on the end of his bat and drove it down the third base line. The ball took an unexpected bounce and shot over Baker's head for a single on which Mathewson and Herzog crossed the plate. Burns struck out for the third time and Shaffer fled to Murphy.

Mathewson held Philadelphia safe in the latter's half of the inning. Oldring going out. Herzog to Wiltse. Collins struck out and Doyle picked up Baker's grounder and tossed him out at first.

The paid attendance at today's game was 20,563. Total receipts amounted to $49,640 of which the national commission received $4,864. Each club's share was $24,876 and the players received $26,855.50.

Davis, Terror Quarter,

Injured in Scrimmage

Gordon Davis star Terror quarter-back and one of Coach Ackers' mainstays this fall was injured yesterday when in the scrimmage with the Terrors he collided with the helmeted trumphet of the Glen Bowers. Davis was three teeth pushed in and his face badly bruised. Whether he will be able to play in Saturday's game with Sacred Heart college in Denver was not known last night. Davis' injury and blitz withdrawal from the team has badly crippled the Terrors.

41 Years Old and Still One of the Best

New York roots shouted for Fletcher to start something when he went to bat in the fourth inning and he responded by slashing the ball to Barry, who made a fine stop and throw to first getting the runner. Burns struck out for the second time amid cheers from the home crowd. Shaffer hit a grounder to Baker who threw low and Shaffer was safe. A moment later he darted for second in an attempted steal but Lapp's throw to Collins beat him as he was out.

In the Athletics' half of the fourth Collins hit to Mathewson and was out at first. Baker brought the fans to their feet by driving a hot single to right field. Doyle got his fingers on it as it shot past him on his left side but only deflected the ball. Baker went to second on McInnis' out. Doyle to Wiltse. Mathewson had two strikes on Strunk when he lost his sense of location for a moment and the Athletics' batter got the first base on balls of the game. The crowd shouted for a run. The runners were off with the pitch and Barry hit the ball but it bounded slowly to second where Doyle scooped it and touched second returning the side.

New York managed to get two men on the bases in the fifth inning after while Plank tightened up. Murray drove a fly to left which Oldring easily held and McLean smashed a single along the third base foul line. Wiltse fanned. Mathewson worked Plank for a base on balls. It was then up to Herzog but the third baseman drove one to Collins and he was out at first.

Catcher Lapp was an easy out at first in Philadelphia's fifth. Plank rammed a single between first and second. He was left there however as Murphy drove a long fly to Burns who backed a ball to a Philadelphia's Charles House, for a while, was a little bit of a trouble. With Mathewson at bat, Plank had little fear of the Athletics trying to steal even though the sixth inning was pretty close.

The Athletics' half of the fourth Collins hit to Mathewson and was out at first. Baker brought the fans to their feet by driving a hot single to right field. Doyle got his fingers on it as it shot past him on his left side but only deflected the ball. Baker went to second on McInnis' out. Doyle to Wiltse. Mathewson had two strikes on Strunk when he lost his sense of location for a moment and the Athletics' batter got the first base on balls of the game. The crowd shouted for a run. The runners were off with the pitch and Barry hit the ball but it bounded slowly to second where Doyle scooped it and touched second returning the side.

New York managed to get two men on the bases in the fifth inning after while Plank tightened up. Murray drove a fly to left which Oldring easily held and McLean smashed a single along the third base foul line. Wiltse fanned. Mathewson worked Plank for a base on balls. It was then up to Herzog but the third baseman drove one to Collins and he was out at first.

Catcher Lapp was an easy out at first in Philadelphia's fifth. Plank rammed a single between first and second. He was left there however as Murphy drove a long fly to Burns who backed a ball to a Philadelphia's Charles House, for a while, was a little bit of a trouble. With Mathewson at bat, Plank had little fear of the Athletics trying to steal even though the sixth inning was pretty close.

FRIENDS SAY JACKSON STILL HOLDS OFFICE

That the office of city attorney was never abolished in Colorado city because the ordinance to that effect had not been passed on final reading before the council move to maintain the name. The council had been asked to pass the ordinance of the city officials there. It had been stated that city attorney Jackson had been requested to resign the fact that he had never been out of office is declared to be incorrect.

SHORTAGE OF COAL MAY CAUSE MILLS TO CLOSE

That the situation in the coal strike promises to be serious as far as the mills of the region are concerned is the rumor arising from the request of the Golden Cycle mill to the Portland company, asking the latter to handle the Elkhorn and Isabella ores in case of necessity. The Golden Cycle mill, which depends on the Pike View mine for its coal closed down Monday night but reopened again yesterday morning.
